

Nannette Lloyd VSW004

I went to grab the machine and the earth had come out of the plug and I was thrown yards and landed up in the water. Five people were trying to stop me shaking – one in that leg, one in that leg, one in this arm, and someone else in that arm, and Sally's mother, Edna was holding my body to try to stop me shaking after the shock. I didn't have rubber on my feet. The next day, the manager gave me money, 'Go and get yourself a pair of wellies.' (he said) 'Well, I should have had them when I was put on the job (I said).
